

Overview

The education sector is undergoing rapid transformation driven by technological innovation, globalisation, evolving regulatory standards, and heightened expectations around quality, governance and student protection. Institutions today must navigate increasingly complex compliance requirements while balancing academic mission with commercial realities and the demands of digital delivery.

Our Education Practice provides comprehensive legal support to education providers across the entire ecosystem, including private and international schools, higher education institutions, training providers, edtech companies, education investors and government-linked entities. Leveraging the Firm's strengths in corporate, regulatory, technology, employment, dispute resolution and data protection, we deliver integrated and commercially focused advice tailored to the unique needs of the education sector.
